

Oman by UTMB®

Oman by UTMB is a difficult and challenging ultra endurance trail event which takes participants into remote areas. The event is based on the principal of semi autonomy as defined in these regulations.

The courses for each of the races within this event include long climbs and exposed sections which require participants to be confident running at altitude and in remote areas.

Temperatures along the route could vary greatly over the day with daytime temperatures reaching over 25°C in the valleys and dropping to around 10°C in the mountains. Night time temperatures could drop below freezing so participants will need to equip accordingly.

The majority of the trails are in the mountains and given the trail's remote, and difficult to access sections, participants are expected to be self-sufficient in all aspects relating to their safety and ability to complete the race without outside support.

Semi-autonomy is defined as having the capacity to be self sufficient between two, aid stations, including, food and water, clothing, safety and having the ability to adapt to problems encountered or unforeseen circumstances.

This principal implies, in particular, the following rules :

- Each participant must :
 - Carry their mandatory equipment, as indicated within these regulations, with them at all times.
 - The mandatory equipment must be carried in the pack which was tagged during the bib distribution prior to the start of the race. This pack may not be changed during the race and is subject to checking by a by a race official at anytime during the race. The participant is obliged to submit to these checks and any resistance to an official check could result in the participant being removed from the race.
- Aid stations along the route will supply drinks and food to be consumed on site at each aid station or to sustain the participant to the next aid station. Still water and energy drinks will be supplied for the filling of water bottles or hydration packs and participants must ensure they have, when leaving each aid station, the quantity of drink and food which is necessary to keep them going until the following aid station. For slower participants, the longest sections without refreshments can be more than 4hrs.
- For 170km and 137 km races, personal assistance is permitted exclusively at specific aid stations, at the discretion of the aid station team leader, and in the zone specifically reserved for this use. These aid stations will be specified in the Participant's Guide.
- Assistance can only be given by one person, without specific equipment other than a bag with a maximum volume of 30 litres.
- Assistance given by a team of professionals, or any medical personnel, is strictly forbidden in this area. The rest of the aid station is strictly reserved for the participants.

- It is forbidden to accompany or be accompanied along any part the race route by a person not registered for the race outside of the designated areas which are clearly marked at the specified aid stations.

Any race officials witnessing irregularities are authorised to penalise the participants in order to guarantee the spirit of trail-running events.

QUARTZ EVENT PROGRAM

The Organiser has decided to implement the QUARTZ Event program to protect participants health and contribute to doping-free sport. This program is open to all participants and has neither the vocation nor the competence to replace anti-doping rules but aims to strengthen the medical supervision before and during the competition.

QUARTZ Event program is carried out in collaboration with the International Trail Running Association (ITRA), Athletes For Transparency association (AFT) and Ultra Sports Science Foundation (USS) ; it is managed by a Health Commission solely composed of doctors.

This Health Commission can take advice from experts of its choice and specifically gives consultative advice to the race management on the medical condition of participants. This Health Commission can go as far as to suggest to the race management that a participant should be excluded from competition for health reasons.

Each participant agrees to :

- Declare to the Health Commission the following medical information :
 - Any medical history and/or pathology, in particular those which may increase risks during the practice of a sport ;
 - The use of regular treatments or medication during the period 30 days prior to the start of the competition ;

He/she also consents to the associated analysis of these samples, on the understanding that the costs for the sampling and analyses are covered directly by the Organiser ;
- Accept not to participate in the competition if glucocorticoids have been used, without any relation to the mode of administration and therefore the presence or not of a TUE, within the 7 days before the start of the competition. The use of glucocorticoids may be identified in the context of the analysis carried out, either from a direct dosage or in the case of an abnormally low cortisol ;
- Accept to answer any meeting request on site or remotely (phone or videoconference) that the Health Commission may ask for in order to discuss their ability or not, to participate in the competition ;
- Submit any doping control form completed within 30 days before the start of the competition and up to 15 days after the competition. Each form must be legible ;
- Accept the use of strictly anonymous data for research purposes. Each participant has a right of access, rectification and opposition to data concerning him. The Health Commission is the authority with which the participant can exercise this right ;

The declaration of medical information to the Health Commission is done through the ITRA health space that each participant can activate after having created a free participant account on the ITRA website : itra.run. The declared medical information is only accessible by the doctors of the Health Commission or in the event of medical care being carried out during the competition the declared medical information will also be made available to the medical team.

Any unreasonable breach, refusal, or transmission of erroneous information in connection with QUARTZ Event program can result in the exclusion of the participant from the competition.

ANTI-DOPING CONTROL

Any participant could be subjected to anti-doping control before, during or at the finish of the event. In the case of a refusal or abstention, the participant will be sanctioned in the same manner as if convicted of doping.

PERSONAL ACCIDENT INSURANCE

The event Organiser reserves the right to change the published time barriers in which case the new time barriers will be published and communicated to the participants. (Eg : Changes in the route due to weather and in the best interest of participant safety.)

These time barriers are calculated to allow participants to arrive at the finish within the allowed maximum race time, taking sufficient rest stops by the participants into account.

In order to avoid being eliminated from the race, participants must leave a check point before the time barrier for that check point, irrespective of what time they arrived at that check point.

IMPORTANT

Any participant eliminated due to not making a time barrier may not continue along the route and will be repatriated off the route by the Organiser.

SAFETY AND MEDICAL ASSISTANCE

Safety and medical teams will be positioned at various points along the route. These locations will be pre-defined by the Organiser and will have the required support personnel and infrastructure to assist with safety and medical incidents should they occur. The safety and medical teams will be in direct contact with the event command center in order to best coordinate any efforts relating to safety and medical support.

All participants in the event are required to assist any other participant should they require support relating to a safety or medical incident.

Should a participant find themselves in an area where only emergency calls are possible from a mobile phone then they are to call the Oman National Emergency Services number : 9999.

IMPORTANT

Do not forget that hazards of all kinds, linked to the environment and the race, may require you to wait for assistance for a longer time than expected. Your safety therefore depends upon the quality of the equipment and materials which you have put in your pack.

Further to this all participants agree that :

- Should they contact race safety, search and rescue, medical personnel or race officials that they submit themselves to their authority and agree to accept their decisions ;
- As from the moment where the state of a participant's health justifies treatment via an intravenous drip, they are automatically eliminated from the race.

All race safety, search and rescue, medical personnel and race officials, as well as any person so designated by the Organiser have the authority to :

- Remove any participant from the race who is judged to be unable to continue the event ;
- Insist that any participant make use of an item of their mandatory equipment ;
- Evacuate, by any means necessary, any participants who are judged to be in danger;
- Evacuate patients to treatment centres which are best equipped to their needs.

All participants in the JBS will undergo a medical check-up at the "Col trail Split" check-point. If the doctor considers that a runner is unable to continue on the JBS route, he may be redirected and classified on the JBA route.

A field medical facility (medical tent) will be accessible to all participants at the finish line throughout the duration of the Event. Participants may make use of this facility where they will be managed by members of the event medical team. Minor treatments will be carried out at the discretion of the personnel and subject to their availability.

RACE WITHDRAWALS AND REPATRIATION – NON SAFETY/MEDICAL REASONS

Should a participant choose to withdraw from the race while on the route they are to report to the closest Aid Station, safety/medical point or race official, submit themselves to their authority and accept their decisions relating to the participants repatriation from the route.

(Note that, depending on your location, this could be a position you have already passed).

Repatriation off the route will be arranged by the Organiser and participants must accept that :

- They must keep their bib numbers in order to access other event elements such as shuttle buses, meals and medical areas ;
- Every effort will be to repatriate participants within an acceptable time frame but, depending on where they withdraw, participants may be required to wait for long periods of time before they are transported off the route ;
- Depending on where they withdraw participants may be required to walk lengthy distances to a point of repatriation accessible by vehicles ;

- Depending on where they withdraw participants will either be repatriated to the official race hotel or the finish line in Al Hamra. It is the participant's responsibility to make further transport arrangements if they are staying in alternative accommodation ;
